

MOJO Taiwan signs MOU Cooperation Agreement with National Cheng Kung University

2021 MARCH

Tainan, Taiwan; March 26, 2021 : Global Digital MOJO is proud to announce the signing of a an MoU with the National Cheng Kung University School of Design in Taiwan to develop innovative design tools driven by VR and AI technologies. At the signing ceremony, the Dean of the Design School Prof. Jeng signed the agreement together with Dr David Williams, CEO of Global Digital MOJO who is visiting Taiwan from Hong Kong. Faculty and staff from both organisations were on-hand to witness the event.

The MoU will focus on developing cross-disciplinary research and commercialisation projects in Taiwan and overseas. Speaking at the event, Dr Jeng said that he hoped for "projects that can bridge departments and faculties in the university and offer new learning opportunities for students"

The first projects focus on VR tools to assist in remote design projects that are readily available for SMES in the Taiwan Southern Technology Park located near to Tainan.
